

To Chief Constable Shaun Sawyer Devon and Cornwall Constabulary
re the deaths of 9 residents of the Holmesley Care Home Sidford from David Halpin MB BS FRCS 14th April 2021

Dear Chief Constable,

I am writing to you as the senior law officer in the two counties as a well informed and responsible citizen. I am helped in this having been educated as a doctor to the best level at St Mary's Hospital Medical School and experiencing thereafter a great deal serving as an orthopaedic and trauma in our NHS. Relevant to these sudden and tragic deaths, my education included the sciences related to immunology, bacteriology, virology and epidemiology. My knowledge of human pathology has been good.

From the start of a 'pandemic' announced by the so called World Health Organization after only a hundred or so deaths at global level due to a 'novel' virus, I have taken a very critical and public stance against a mixture of advice, rules and statutes coming from HMG. This included, and for the first time, the quarantining of healthy persons in their homes. I need not detail the tragic outcomes; your officers will have been dealing with the tragedy of suicides for instance.

You probably recognise my name because I have written to you several times early in 2020, and especially about the unnecessary, and indeed evil exclusion of families from enjoyment on Dartmoor from where I write now. And I have copied you into other attempts towards truth where it is relevant. I have written in appreciation of the fact that your e-mail is open, and that every time I make contact with you and your force, the e-mail is acknowledged and the reassurance given that a senior officer will have read it if you have not. This has not been my experience with the Thames Valley Police <https://dhalpin.infoaction.org.uk/52-articles/covid-19/343-assault-on-children-in-a-trial-of-a-vaccine-by-the-oxford-group-and-astra-zeneca-for-which-there-is-no-need> I have copied this to your force previously.

I am relying on a Spotlight broadcast about the deaths for my 'facts' and on the scanty news reports since. A colleague in our large and informal group has scoured the 'news' and confirms that there is nothing current. I recall an interview with a senior officer standing by the care home notice board, and his telling that several agencies were involved in the investigation. At that time there had been 5 or 6 deaths, and the news that that 11 people had been hospitalised at the RD&E – 10 residents and one carer. Later I heard that 9 had died in total. Deaths at two Exmouth homes were spoken of but I have not read nor heard any facts relating to those.

Most recently I read that two carers at the Sidford home have been charged with wilful neglect, arrested, and later 'bailed'.

I have been minutely involved with the unnatural death of Dr David Kelly CMG DSc 17/18 July 2003 having been the first doctor to challenge the primary cause of death as certified and confirmed by the deficient Hutton Inquiry. My web site is part testimony to this - <https://dhalpin.infoaction.org.uk/search?searchword=kelly&searchphrase=all> 51 references. It is natural therefore that I take a close interest in 'unnatural death'. My main motive is in seeing the UK turn back to full recognition and maintenance of our laws -

I believe the deaths of these nine persons occurred some time after 'vaccination' (Astra Zeneca and PfizerBionTech 'jabs' are NOT vaccines) and the care workers illness requiring ten to be admitted to the RD&E similarly followed the jabbing. The impression was conveyed by the unipolar press that the illness was due to the virus, the RT-PCR test I assume being positive. But Professor John Lee has stated that people receiving these inoculations will be converted to +ve if negative before. I add the WHO has recently stated that this test, introduced improperly by Drosten is worthless as carried out, and has recommended re-testing! A practical impossibility.

There is sufficient evidence to state firmly that the deaths in these nine were potentially unnatural. How should our society respond, and in particular your force, in this. At present I read that the force and the CQC are the bodies involved. The latter is inadequate for several reasons aside from its investigation re. the running of the care home. This is a forensic matter ie : relating to or dealing with the application of scientific knowledge to legal problems Merriam-Webster.

You will easily recall the murders of older ladies carried out by a fellow medical practitioner Dr Shipman. And that he happened to take his own life in prison, following which the then Home Secretary Blunkett celebrated with champagne, when he should have instead resigned because he was ultimately responsible for keeping this Satan alive. You will also recall that others helped him in returning to his practice of 'medicine'.

Dame Janet Smith's inquiry into all this was in 5 reports. This links to the third which is the basis for what I demand below.

Foreword - quotations

The focus of the Inquiry has therefore been primarily on the protection of patients from the actions of a homicidal doctor.

The system must seek to protect the public from harm of other kinds and to expose the wrongdoing of others besides an occasional aberrant health professional.

It is said that the existing system is fragmented, is not sufficiently professional, is applied to very variable standards in different parts of the country and does not meet the needs of the public, especially the bereaved. It is said that it does not satisfy the public interest in the discovery of the true causes of death in the population.

Body of report

The Duty to Report Concerns to the Coroner 19.126

The imposition of a statutory duty to report matters of concern to the coroner was discussed at length during the seminars and is reported at paragraphs 17.74 to 17.84. In my view there should be a statutory duty on any qualified or responsible person to report to the Coroner Service any concern relating to the cause or circumstances of a death of which s/he becomes aware in the course of his/her duties. In the class of 'qualified' persons, I include doctors, nurses, midwives and paramedics. In the class of 'responsible' persons, I include hospital and hospice managers, registrars, care home owners and managers, police officers, firefighters, funeral directors, embalmers and mortuary technicians. The duty upon such a person should be to report to a coroner or coroner's 519

The Shipman Inquiry investigator, as soon as practicable, any information relating to a death believed by that person to be true and which, if true, might amount to evidence of crime, malpractice or neglect. The duty upon funeral directors, mortuary technicians and embalmers would obviously be related to any signs of violence, medical malpractice or neglect which they might observe when preparing the body for disposal or autopsy.

No respect for this has been shown by HMG in its illogical and unscientific response to 'C19'; the changes to certification of death, and that required previously prior to cremation have opened the door to criminality.

My simple demand is this. The release of the autopsy findings in the nine carried out – I presume in the mortuary of the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital, and the pathologists/clinicians conclusions. (I served as a surgeon at the RD&E, and previously at the extinguished Princess Elizabeth Orthopaedic Hospital where I was trained). They can be fully anonymised.

The fact is this. Many previously healthy people are being made ill following these inoculations of experimental vaccines. (Released for reasons of 'emergency')

The adverse effects of the two quoted agents are listed on the MHRA website and make for the greatest concern.  I emphasise that the reporting of such is haphazard and relies on the 'Yellow Card' system which has been going for decades. A good friend who became suddenly ill the day he had the AS stuff 10-03-2021 was not involved in the legal requirement for informed consent and knew nothing of the 'Yellow Card' until last night. The system in the US is somewhat better – perhaps, but a Harvard Study found that only 1 to 10% of adverse effects of inoculations got the the Cdc – the Centre for Disease Control.

 There are reports for instance of thrombosis in the sagittal sinus. Although I have a good knowledge of clinical medicine, and especially of pathology, I cannot recall this as a diagnosis.
